

Letter Of Recommendation

It is with the great pleasure & honour for me to recommend Darren and Ryan Keizer of Keizer Log Works. I first met the “Keizer Brothers” when looking to build a Log Home in the Yukon. After searching through a wide selection of available Log Home Builders in both British Columbia and Alaska I decided to go with Darren and Ryan Keizer for a number of reasons that I felt were most important when deciding to build a Log Home.

After building many frame constructed homes in the past, I felt choosing to build a log home would demand a unique set of requirements that could not be rolled out in a conventional way as with most frame constructed homes.

It was important for me to not only be able to have an intimate working relationship with a professional builder having several years log building experience, but with owners of a company that could show me successful past projects, happy customers, and references that could endorse the “Keizer Log Works” in being able to meet the demands of their customer concerning the attention to detail in building a sustainable ‘live home’.

After a very short time in working with Darren & Ryan in customizing the design of our family’s new log home, I realized very quickly that I made the right decision based on the time and patience they took to meet the detailed demands of a log home customer. I experienced that the “Keizer Brothers” had a very personal & professional & approach between them to accommodate your wishes during the entire building process, but that they also knew when to offer firm positive advice when they felt their customer was going in the wrong direction.

The ability to find a log builder that can provide you can trust & provides technical advice in a seamless construction process is critical to the successful completion of a Log Home. I found Darren and Ryan to be the consummate professional craftsmen, very confident and efficient in all they do, very unique in the personal services they offer as brothers, a strong team, never rushed, BUT ALWAYS taking the care to do the job right.

They simply love and care about the work they do!

The building of a Log Home is arguably the most personal form of home construction one could experience, combining both science & art – “in which the experience of it’s journey to be as gratifying as it’s finished product”.

It is with utmost pleasure & confidence to recommend and endorse Keizer Log Works.

Sincerely,
